

The Seawane Club

Title: Assistant Professional for the 2022 season

About the Club:

Preserved and peacefully set away from the hustle and bustle of urban Long Island, The Seawane Club's links style layout features wind swept fescue, natural mounding, hundreds of sandtraps, waste areas and pure bent grass greens. Our grounds border Thixton Creek, are dissected by Cauerbach Canal and overlook Hewlett Bay. With the open Atlantic just three miles away, it's easy to taste the salty air and feel the ocean breeze with every swing you make. Built nearly a century ago in 1927 by famed architect, Devereux Emmet, the Seawane Club still stands today as a premier test of championship golf. Annually hosting top local events like the 2020 MET PGA Head Professional and Women's Championship and the 2021 Long Island Mid-Am Championship, the club is equally welcoming to members, families and juniors just beginning to learn the game.

The Seawane Club believes in providing members with the finest service in a relaxed, hospitable environment so members can fully embrace their leisure time and celebrate memories with friends. As a staff, we're looking for fellow team member to work hard and help shape that vision while simultaneously growing as a person and professional through experience and an expanding skill set.
